

Recommendations

The decision to use a PEG feeding tube requires an in-depth assessment of the potential benefits to the individual. All patients in whom PEG feeding is proposed should be reviewed by a multidisciplinary team.

There is a need for more comprehensive national guidelines for the use of PEG feeding, including issues of patient selection.