

Recommendations

There should be national guidelines for assuring continuing competency in endoscopy.

All endoscopy units should perform regular audit and all deaths during, or within 30 days of, therapeutic endoscopy should be reviewed.

All those responsible for the administration of sedation should have received formal training and assessment.