

9. Outreach

Key findings

- There was geographical inequality in the presence of outreach services, with the majority being provided in English hospitals.
- One in four hospitals did not use some form of track and trigger system to allow early identification of deteriorating patients.